

Physiotherapy Student Clinic

Appointments are available in our student-led physiotherapy clinic at the WA Centre for Rural Health (WACRH) in Geraldton.

People attending the clinic are seen by Physiotherapy students supervised by qualified Physiotherapists.

We can offer services for a range of conditions including but not limited to:

- Back, neck, joint and muscle pain (including headaches)
- Sports injuries
- Post-surgery rehabilitation (e.g. joint replacements)
- Postural issues
- Chronic Pain

All students provide assessments and treatments, designed to decrease pain, restore strength and facilitate recovery.

Clients will also receive a home program to enable them to maintain their progress.

Who can attend:

No doctor referral needed and anyone is eligible to attend. It is particularly suited to those who have difficulty accessing other physiotherapy services.

There is no cost.

For an appointment, call:
WA Centre for Rural Health
Telephone 9956 0200
167 Fitzgerald Street, Geraldton
www.wacrh.uwa.edu.au

Western Australian Centre for Rural Health